Quiz & Worksheet - Workplace Sensitivity Training for Employees

1. Which of the following would be an example of workplace insensitivity?

- Privately observing that a colleague won't eat a particular food
- Inadvertently offering a dish to a colleague who can't eat a particular food for religious reasons
- Making fun of a colleague who won't eat a particular food for religious reasons
- All of the answers are correct.

2. Which of the following is NOT true about sensitivity training?

- It helps us appreciate other points of view and arrive at mutual understanding.
- It helps us develop a strictly retroactive approach to offensive behaviors and emphasizes apologies.
- It helps us see what actions and words are more or less likely to be offensive.
- It helps us develop respect for each person as an equal and as a human being.

3. With regards to jokes in the workplace, which of the following statements is true?

- The safest approach to jokes in the workplace is to be 100% business all the time.
- Only over-sensitive people are offended by jokes in the workplace.
- As long as one employee finds a joke amusing, most likely all employees will find it funny.
- Sensitivity training can help employees develop an appropriate sense of workplace humor.
